Rick,

Wise move. Hang tight for a bit on those articles. We're going to let this GALE storm clear the air for a bit and so we're going to take a break from writing on all symbols for at least a little while. AF killed DreamTeam in the article and I think Galena may have fired DreamTeam (not sure on that yet).

We're going to pay you for your Galena research though ($300) once I get your W9. We will pay you for CYTR and MEIL once we get back to biz and get them published.

This hasn't happened before and is really the fault of GALE management who basically dumped their shares at the high point. They're idiots and who knows what will happen to them later on. Sorry for the trouble, just need to let this shitstorm pass.
